EDITH NEWS.

When that immortal Southern chief-fain—Robert E. Lee, surrendered the remnant of his brave and gallant little army, the confederate soldier returned in the language of Caesar, "The die was cast and all was over." The cause he loved so well and for which he had fought, bled and suffered privation and hardship, was forever lost to him. For a moment his breast heaved with emotion, his frame trembled and he bowed his head and wept. Then turning his back upon the battle fields, he took up his long and weary march homeward.

Behold him as he trudges along, his step is slow and his once strong frame is reduced to a mere shadow, his cheeks are hollow and his body is racked with pain. When night comes on and he seeks a place to rest the earth is his bed and the blue and canopy of the heavens his covering. When morning dawns he resumes his journey homeward and as he proceeds his listless and ragged uniform, his emaciated frame tells the story for him and he is ministered to with kind hands and loving hearts. Now he is nearing home, familiar scenes present themselves on every side and his tread becomes quicker and his eye brighter. At last he gains an elevation which commands a view of his once stately home and wide plantation, and pauses with bowed head, perhaps in prayer, perhaps fearful to behold the ruin which lays before him, who can tell? At length he raises his head and looks upon the scene of devastation. He had passed through many battles where shot and shell were as numerous as the sands of the seashore, and had charged to the flaming mouths of the cannon, and his courage had never failed, but the sight of his home in ruins and his plantation laid waste was a greater test of courage than he had ever known before. He had gone forth to fight for that which he believed just and right—country and home—and being overpowered he had sought refuge in his home—it was gone. Hope and despair battled for supremacy. At last loving arms were entwined about his neck and a sweet bright face looked up into his one—Woman, his earth, stood by him speaking words of cheer and urging him onward. Hope took up its abode in his heart, thus aided, and the battle was won. Woman bound up his wounds and nursed him back to health and strength and imbued him with hope and courage to begin life anew. A cabin of unwhipped logs was made and she who had been reared amid luxurious surroundings took up her household duties therein with cheerful mien. A mule was found on the range and with rudely constructed harness and plow the confederate soldier took his place behind the plow with that indomitable will which characterized him on the battle field. Gradually order was brought out of chaos and fields and grounds resumed their former appearance. Until today, the "sweet southern home" stands the wonder and admiration of the world—the envy of the North and target for all the vile vituperation of the Northern press.

With these facts before us, is it any wonder—and isn't it right—that the man of the south should love and esteem woman—his southland—above all other things of the earth? Ay, and he will defend and protect her from the insults and outrages of the black lips of hell whom the North would lovingly embrace and defend from justice. The negro rapist goes through a country, selects an innocent white girl for his victim, awaits a favorable opportunity and then assaults and murders her. The people of the South have no stones unturned to capture and burn him at the stake—a death penalty is too humane for the crime perpetrated—and the North doubts the South claims too numerous to mention. When an incompetent negro is appointed to office in the South the North looks on and applauds, but when an office was created and a negro appointed to fill it, recently in Boston the "warblers" and "proper talkers" howled up the earth a mile deep. Boston is a mixed town where negroes hunt pretty white women. This fact alone shows the depraved condition of things up there. It is the kind of cattle that is forever and eternally sticking up its "bloody shirt" in front of us. Jeff Davis, of Arkansas, did a pious act last year when he pardoned a negro back from the state prison on the condition that he would become a citizen of Massachusetts immediately. The people of that state had roared so long and loud that Davis was daunted showing them what kind of black devil he had to contend with. Of course this raised a louder howl but little did Davis care.

The South is now the better part of the United States in many ways. Her manufacturing enterprises are rapidly increasing and ere long will outstrip the north. The intelligence of the south—leaving out the negroes according to numbers, exceeds that of the north. At the close of the war the south was a waste but within forty years it has grown to be one of the leading sections of the globe. This is due to southern "get you go" for manner of conducting things. It is absolutely unnecessary for the Administration to appoint negroes to office in the south. There are thousands of competent white men of either party who should have the appointments. In view of the fact, the recent negro appointment at Charleston looks like spite work. A newspaper stated editorially a few days ago that the Democratic press was kicking about the Charleston appointment and that it had evidently overlooked the fact that two negroes were let out of office in the south not long ago and white men installed.

The southern Republicans, of the white faction are raising more sand than the Democrats, and I say "keep on raising sand" until the negro office holding curse is removed. We don't need the "black element," there for they only create discord and mischief. As for the two negroes Teddy removed from office, they were like all others of their color—incompetent, and he had to kick them out. Keep the negro in his place and there will be no trouble but put him in a white man's shoes and the devil increases business right away.

God in all his wisdom made the white man first and he should still be first in every thing. The Indian says "God made white man first, red man next, dog next and nigger last." If Teddy is to give me Samba a job he should try him in the North while let the long suffering negroes of the South have a term of peace.

C. S. CAMPBELL.

Mr. C. S. Campbell departed this life on Friday, Jan. 2, 1903, at 12 o'clock M. in the hospital of the State Medical University at Galveston.

He had suffered more or less for several years with kidney trouble which developed into the kidney. He was confined to his bed for several weeks during his last illness and was given the benefit of skilled medical attention, but his condition could not be relieved and his physicians decided that an operation was the only alternative. He was taken to Galveston on Wednesday morning, Dec. 31st, accompanied by his wife and Dr. S. G. Northrup, and an operation was performed. Thursday morning, Jan. 1st, the surgeon took five stones from the left kidney. He had grown very weak as a result of his serious condition and long confinement, but he stood the operation fairly well for one in his condition and was perfectly rational after the operation, but was quite weak. Friday morning, Jan. 2, he grew weaker and finally at 12 o'clock M. he succumbed. The news of his death was telephoned to Giddings immediately and it cast a pall of sorrow over the community, for his friends were legion. The remains were brought in Giddings Friday night and on Saturday afternoon interred in the Giddings cemetery, being followed to the grave by a large cortege of sorrowing friends, the county officers acting as pall bearers.

Mr. Campbell was born in Adair county, Kentucky, May 14, 1854, and moved to Texas in 1885. He stepped first at Fort Worth and was engaged in the railroad business at different points in Texas until 1888, when he engaged in the drug business at Winder. He sold his drug store after a time and entered railroad work again; later he gave up railroad work and was appointed district clerk to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Fred Kane, deceased. Later he was employed by Mr. W. T. Heck as deputy tax collector, serving in this capacity for several years and during the campaign of 1888 he became a candidate for Tax Collector and was elected, remaining Tax Collector up to his death. He proved to be an efficient officer and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of a large circle of friends.

He was married February 27, 1887, to Miss Lennie Young, who, with three children survive him.

The News joins the many friends of the family in extending heartfelt sympathy in this, their hour of grief.—The Giddings News.

BRANN ON MAN.

The place to take the measure of a man is not in the forum or the field, not in the market place or the amen corner, but his own fireside. There he lays aside his mask, and you may judge whether he is imp or angel, king or hero or humbug. I care not what the world says—whether it crowns him with bays or pelts him with bad eggs; I care not a copper what his reputation may be if his habits dread his homecoming and his better-half swallows her heart every time she asks for a five dollar bill, he's a fraud of the first water.

When the children rush to the front gate to meet him and love's own sunshine illuminates the face of his wife when he hears his footfall, you take it for granted that he is pure gold, for his home is a heaven, and the humbug never gets that near to the white throne of God. He may be a rank atheist and a red flag anarchist, a Mormon and a mugwump, he may buy votes in blocks of five and bet on the election, and may deal from the bottom of the pack and drink beer until he can't tell a silver dollar from a circular saw, and still be infinitely a better man than the cowardly little hypocrite who is all suavity in society, yet makes his home a hell—who vents upon the helpless heads of his wife and children the ill-nature that he would like to inflict upon his fellow-men, but he dares not. I can forgive much in that fellow mortal who had rather make men swear than women weep; who had rather have the hate of the world than the contempt of his wife; who would rather call anger to the eyes of a king than fear to the face of a child.—Brann's Iconoclast.

TWO POLICES CONTRASTED.

Senator Hoar thus contrasts imperialism and self-government:

What have your ideals cost you and what have they brought for you?

1. For the Philippine islands you have had to repeal the Declaration of Independence.

For Cuba you have had to re-affirm it and give it new lustre.

2. For the Philippine islands you have had to convert the Monroe doctrine into a doctrine of mere selfishness.

For Cuba you have acted on it and vindicated it.

3. In Cuba you have got the eternal gratitude of a free people.

In the Philippine islands you have got the hatred and sullen submission of a subjugated people.

4. From Cuba you have brought home nothing but glory.

From the Philippines you have brought home nothing of glory.

5. In Cuba no man thinks of counting the cost. The few soldiers who came home from Cuba wounded or sick carry tales of their wounds and their pale faces as if they were medals of honor. What soldier glories in a wound or an empty sleeve which he got in the Philippines?

6. The conflict in the Philippines has cost you $600,000,000—thousands of American soldiers—the flower of your youth—the health and manhood of thousands more, and hundreds of thousands of Philippine slain.

MORMONISM AND THE SENATE.

Apostle Reed Smoot has been nominated for the United States Senator by the Republicans of the Utah Legislature.

The nomination is, of course, equivalent to an election, and in the near future the Conscript Fathers at Washington will find themselves face to face with the question: "Shall a Mormon be allowed to sit in the United States Senate?"

Smoot is a member of the Council of the Twelve Apostles of the Mormon Church, and is, therefore, in direct line for the presidency of that most un-American institution.

log voice has been heard all over the country, as well as the English and the continent.

That man should be nominated and elected to the high office of United States Senator by the Mormons of Utah is not a matter of surprise, but it will be a very great surprise if Smoot is permitted to take his place in the upper council of the nation.

CHARACTER IS WORTH.

Character is what a man really is. Reputation is what he appears to be or is supposed to be. Not every time of character and reputation coincide in the same individual. Men who do not care for character, because they know they are not honest, will do everything in their power to protect their reputation, says the New Orleans Picayune. Character amounts to so much in this world that reputation for honesty becomes exceedingly valuable because it may save a man from being publicly disgraced.

Valuable as a good character is, it is not sufficiently appreciated by employers. It should be rewarded particularly when coupled with business ability. But the unscrupulous employer does not want a man who may refuse to do his bidding in some crooked transaction, and so the honest man sometimes goes begging.

But the fact remains that never before was there such a need of honest men and women, and the world will sooner or later find it out. Sharp practice does not always win, and customers who are cheated find out the fact, and in time the world will go back to honesty and the shapers will be cast out. Let the honest workers stand to their principles. They are the foundation upon which the vast and noble structure of virtue and honor is built and must ever remain.

The number of men who fail on account of lack of character is enormous. The number who would refuse to let go of a dollar if they knew positively it would bring back two is astonishing. Such men merely exist. They don't live. They never really amount to anything. The men who win are the men who think out the right course to pursue, then back up their convictions with their last penny and their last ounce of energy. The first goods John Wamamaker ever sold brought him $30.

He delivered his goods in a wheelbarrow. He collected the $30 and went to a newspaper office and planked it down for advertising space. Some men would have spent $1.50 for some cheap dodgers and "saved" the rest. They would have been wheelbarrow merchants to-day.

Admiral George Dewey, as president of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association, issued an appeal to the public for subscriptions for a national memorial to Jefferson. It is pointed out that, although nearly every noted citizen is represented at Washington by a monument of some sort, there is not even a tablet erected there in memory of the author of the Declaration of Independence. The fund for the memorial is to be raised wholly by the people. Congress will not be asked for an appropriation.

A MOST FATAL GIFT.

Would be the power of foreseeing events. This would destroy hope. A knowledge of the future would unmake happiness. There are, of course, some things about the future we do know. If, for instance, a lack of energy, ambition and loss of appetite shows itself we know it will be followed by serious complaints if not checked. Often liver and kidney trouble follow quickly. To any extent Electric Bitters will restore you to health. It strengthens, builds up and invigorates rundown systems. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by all Druggists.

At Kokomo, Ind., John Neudick was fined for whipping his wife because she would not join him in prayer. She had her hands in a pan of dough at the time and couldn't leave her work. He arose in the midst of his prayer and knocked her down. No information is given as to whether he then resumed his supplication. Mr. Neudick's method of family worship is not likely to prove acceptable to the average wife.

Any simple remedy will stop a cough; any simple remedy will dry it up. How many consumptives have tried this nature. Dr. Chase's Cough Syrup breaks the lungs and removes the inflammation. Only in this way can a cure be obtained. Sold by E. Craven.

LITTLE PEARLS.

THE CROSS.

Bless they who seek,
While in their youth
With spirit meek,
The way of truth.

To them the sacred scriptures now display
Christ as the only true and living way;
His precious blood on Calvary was given
To make them heirs of endless bliss in Heaven.
And e'en on earth the child of God can trace
The glorious blessings of his Saviour's grace.

For them He bore
His Father's frown
For them He wore
The thorny crown;
Nailed to the cross,
Endured its pain,
That His life's loss
Might be their gain,
Then haste to choose
That better part.
Nor e'en dare refuse
The Lord thy heart,
Lest He declare,
"I know you not."
And deep despair
Should be your lot.

Now look to Jesus who on Calvary died
And trust on Him who there was crucified.

WED. FEBRUARY 11.
ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For State Treasurer.

We are authorized to announce H. H. HENNINGER, Wayne county, a candidate for the office of State Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

MR. SMOOT.

There will likely be an effort on the part of many people, to prevent the newly elected Senator from Utah from taking his seat in the U. S. Senate, and just what the result will be can not yet be determined. Mr. Reed Smoot, a high official of the Mormon Church and a staunch Republican, is the man who holds the certificate of election from the Utah Legislature. About two years ago Mr. Roberts, elected by the voters of his district to a seat in Congress, presented his certificate to that body and was given the grand bounce because he was a member of the Mormon Church, but he was also a Democrat. Now it is up to the Senate whether or not it will reject Mr. Smoot on the same ground that the House kicked out Roberts. If Mr. Smoot is accepted, then Mormonism cuts no figure provided a Mormon can agreeable political convictions. If he is rejected then the Senate will have endorsed the rejection of Mr. Roberts as well as Mr. Smoot. In our judgment Congress established a dangerous precedent in the Roberts case. We take the position that a man's religious connection should not bar him from office nor aid him to get it. It will be asserted, no doubt, that Roberts had a plurality of wives and that Smoot has only one. This will afford a dodging point only but will not be sufficient to liberate the Republican party from the odium of rejecting a Democrat who was honestly elected, and not questioned, because he was a Democrat, rather than his attachment to a religious creed. Mr. Smoot is not a practical Mormon in the sense of a polygamist, but one theoretically. He stands high in the councils of his Church. He has done the missionary act in the Old World.

He has not sought to expell polygamy from his Church. He is as gaily as Roberts. Both honestly elected, then both should have their offices, and if the teaching and practice of the Mormon creed is a violation of national law, a crime against the State, then each should answer to an indictment from the bodies in which they sit.

Rev. I. R. Hicks has the following to say concerning the weather for this month: "We do not hesitate to say now that we believe that February will be one of the roughest months of the winter, in the main, and that many localities will encounter great danger when the flood and crash of ice gorges begin to break and move down narrow defiles and streams. Some of the most violent of the vernal equinoctial storms will approach the southern coast, in all probability, before the end of February."

Hon. T. R. McBeath, who was elected Reporter of the Court of Appeals, has been tendered his resignation as Circuit Judge of the Ninth district. Mr. W. S. Chelf, who has been nominated by the Democratic in that district for Circuit Judge, has been appointed by Gov. Beckham to fill out Judge McBeath's unexpired term. Mr. Chelf was the Commonwealth's Attorney in the district, and the remainder of his term will be filled by Mr. J. R. Layman.

We are reliably informed that Mr. Julius Hancock, of this place, is a republican candidate for Circuit Judge in this district. Mr. Hancock has served the people of Adair county as Circuit Court Clerk and as County Judge.

WAS "ON THE DEMOCRATIC SIDE."

A number of years ago in the senatorial district, then composed of Garrard, Lincoln, Boyle and Casey, the candidates were the Hon. Ferdinand D. Rigney, of Casey, and Capt. Samuel Boone, who we believe, was then living at Danville. A joint debate was arranged between the two, and they spoke all over the district. Rigney was a man of fine sense, but his early education was neglected, and he was not as well versed in the meaning of words as his smarter but less solid opponent. On one occasion, after questioning Mr. Rigney as to his position on a number of questions then agitating the people, and getting answers that were always satisfactory to his hearers, Capt. Boone asked the old gentleman how he stood on the doctrine of transubstantiation. Mr. Rigney had doubtless never heard of the word, and it was a stumper. He thought a moment and then brought down the house and got the laugh on his tormentor by saying: "I haven't given the question much thought, but I'll promise you one thing, I will be sure to be on the Democratic side."—Lexington Democrat.

Mr. R. L. Durham, of Greensburg, is now an announced candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney in the district comprising the counties of Green, Taylor, Marion and Washington. Mr. Durham's county's candidate has withdrawn from the contest, and to us the race looks mighty Durhamish.

CAMPBELLVILLE.

News reached here that three cabins occupied by colored people were demolished by the severe wind storm on Monday the 24 instant. They were situated near a cut on the railroad, one mile South of Springfield. The dwellings were blown down in the cut near by. One of the inmates, a man, was injured seriously. I could not learn the particulars, but the houses and furniture must have been fairly damaged. The train was delayed, and the debris were removed which required quite a while.

Right lately there have been earthquake shocks in South Carolina and Massachusetts. What! The North and South going at it again? If so, Kentucky should proclaim her neutrality and insist on its observance. We do not want northern and southern earthquakes to meet on Kentucky's sacred soil no more than we want northern and southern wars to devastate the State in the unpleasant war of '61-'64. No, Sirree! Keep off; if you don't Kentucky will not only start a quake of her own, but will get up a volcano somewhere, on Muldrough's Hill or elsewhere.

United States Marshal Coleman arrested and lodged in jail Lee Johnson, of color, charged with selling liquor without license. He has been for a long time keeping the stage stable of the Columbia Stage line. He was put in the same cell with which Pittman committed suicide not long since, but Lee is supposed to be in a bluffer state of ignorance in reference thereto. I understand the evidence will be decidedly against him. He was taken to Lebanon together with three others from Green and Adair counties.

An important meeting of ministers of different denominations was held at the Methodist church in this place last week, 2d and 4th inst. The object was to further promote and encourage the raising of means in aid of domestic and foreign missions. It is understood that the meeting was a success and that more energy will hereafter be exerted to foster and encourage both home and foreign missions. Many interesting and able speeches were made. Present, Revs. J. A. Lewis and J. L. Murrell, Lebanon; C. D. Ward, Springfield; — Styles, Bradfordville; P. Thomas, J. L. Edgington, B. M. Shire, J. B. Bozeman, Campbellville; W. C. Love, Mannsville; and — Thrurow. Early's Chapel.

I am informed that there is not a dwelling, store-room nor office in town that is vacant, and there is a demand for more. I am pleased to learn, too, that Columbia is on a boom; that business is active, and that new store-houses, offices and dwellings continue to be in process of erection. The several electric railroads between the two towns, when completed, will further stimulate business. For a benefit to both places, and bring into closer social and business relations the people of both Adair and Taylor counties, more especially those of Campbellville and Campbellville. "Strike while the iron is hot."

CANE VALLEY.

Mr. T. I. Smith and his little son, Spalding, are in Louisville this week. Mr. Joseph Hood, who has been visiting his son, Dr. Rich. Hood, in Columbus, for the past two months, returned home last week. Geo. Cundiff returned to his home in Chicago, Ill., last week after a two month visit. Geo. Grider, of this place, killed a black snake last Wednesday that measured 6 feet in length.

An infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Clark died last Sunday of pneumonia.

Mr. Brock Masie and family will leave about March 1st for McKinney, Texas, where they will make their future home.

Misses Emma Thomas and Kate Squires, of the Milltown country, visited here last week.

P. C. W.—son sold his house and lot opposite the Roller mill to John E. Bank, last week for $300.

Joe G. Shubert sold the property opposite Dr. N. M. Hancock's to Ed Cundiff, last Friday for $6.00.

KNOB LICK.

Mrs. Leander Ball has been quite sick for several days but is somewhat improved at this time.

Mr. Rolia Mitchell, an employee of the L. & N. R.R., who is located at Nashville, is visiting his mother here.

Mules and brood mares seem to be very much in demand, especially mules. Persons having mules they wish to keep had better not price them. I know of several persons who have unaccountably sold, just by pricing their stock, at a sum they thought the buyers would certainly not give.

Mr. Pete Hayes sold a mare to Mr. Harvey Shirley for $150. Mr. Joseph Karsus sold one to Eugene Reid for $85. Mr. Charley Karsus was offered $135 for a mare he paid $80 for two months ago. O. C. Allen bought a lot of stock hogs of J. H. Lee at 50c R. South bought a lot of hogs of W. D. Thompson at the same price. Eugene Thompson sold a mule to Elizabeth Thompson parties for $115 and bought a two year old of Mr. Simmons for $110. R. H. Barton bought a cow of J. W. Thompson for $25.

On last Wednesday night some one entered the dry goods store of Mr. T. C. Franklin at this place, without the knowledge or consent of Mr. Franklin. After prizing the cash drawer open with the poker and taking what little change there was in it he sampled the candy and took a few cans of oysters. On the same night some one stole from Mr. W. W. Alexander his saddle mare. She was found next morning near Horse Cave. It is thought that the same party who broke into the store stole the mare.

A little child of Rev. T. S. Thompson died last Sunday morning.

Mr. Will Hays will sell at public auction next Saturday, a lot of good stock. Mr. Hays is one of the best breeders of fine hogs in this section. He will also offer some fine cattle and horses for sale.

Meers Thompson & Embrie will sell their mill site and engine to the highest bidder on the 27th of this month.

Yesterday Senator Hanna introduced a bill granting pensions and bounties to all former slaves who were freed by the proclamation of President Lincoln. What do our Republican friends think of that? It is useless to ask that question, however, from the fact that the opinions of the rank and file of the party on such questions are moulded at the big Republican foundry and sent out C. O. D. by such men as Marcus Hanna.

Mr. Ed Kinsard, who has been in school here for a month has returned to Nell, where he will enter school taught by Miss Nannie Rose.

Mr. Geo. Rosenfield, the efficient salesman of Neil, Neil & Co., visited his parents at Columbia, Saturday.

Thos. Dodder, of color, sold a mule colt to J. A. Wilmore for $30.

Geo. T. Rodgers, the well known tobacco man of Milltown, was here last week looking after tobacco.

Hickerson & Myers, of Horse Cave, were here last week mixing with our mule men.

Dr. Wuster, of Columbia, who located at Keltner for a few months, is having good practice and is giving satisfaction.

Geo. H. Nell, of the firm of Smith & Nell, has been at Greensburg for a few days shipping stock to Louisville.

H. A. Walker sold to Dick Tandy, an extra good mule for $120.

Clayton Pile sold H. A. Walker, one mule for $80.

Miss Bernabea Holladay, of Columbia, visited Mrs. J. W. Walker Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. Strong Hill and wife returned from Russell Springs last week. Mr. Hill informed us that he had bought a lot at that place and would in the near future, erect a handsome dwelling and business house. Mr. Hill will remove to that place and go into business.

Smith & Nell bought of J. R. Hindman, 15 hogs, at 50c of Herschel Breeding, 25 hogs, at 5c. They sold to Beamsley Squires, of Green county, 37 hogs at 51 per pound.

The sad intelligence reached us yesterday by telegram of the death of Mr. J. A. Bradshaw, of Letchfield, Ky., who was in his 74th year and had been in declining health for years. Mr. Bradshaw was born and raised in this county, near Montpellier. He resided in this immediate vicinity for several years and was a faithful and trader by occupation, and he was a very successful business man. For the last few years he had been living at Letchfield. He leaves a wife, one daughter, a brother and several sisters, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn in this, their sad bereavement.

KELTNER.

The people of this community have been burning plant beds for several days.

Our old Commonwealth is all OK, and could rightly be called one of the foremost states in the Union. But of late years her only serious fault is her changeable climate which materially affects the people's health, causing catarrh, consumption and many other chronic diseases to be prominent.

Mr. King Clark, a prominent farmer and trader of Green county, was married to Miss Ida Buchanan, a cultured young lady of Greensburg, on the 25th of January, at the bride's home. We wish them a successful career and a happy union through life.

Mr. Geo. Keltner and his nephew, Chess, are buying all the fat hogs in this section and paying as high as 54 cents.

Robt. Dohoney and Bro. Lewis, made a business trip to Columbia Monday.

Mr. Allen Keltner sold three mules for $325, and Chesley Keltner sold one for $22.50.

At a meeting recently held at Norris School-house, a building committee was appointed by Rev. A. L. Meli for the erection of a new M. E. Church South, in that vicinity which is to be added to the Gradyville circuit. Any one desiring to assist in this useful cause may send their contributions to C. M. Becker, Chairman of collecting committee, or Otha B. Finn, Secretary.

Rev. A. L. Meli filled his regular appointment last Saturday and Sunday, giving an interesting message.

Mr. Jas. Dowell, of Liletown, who has been sick for some time, is no better.

Mr. Guinn Moss, of Greensburg, was here last week looking after timber.

YANARSDAL-HATCHER.

Yesterday, February 10, 1903, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Sophia McBrayer, in Shelbyville, Ky., Miss Carrie Hatchler, of this city, was married to Mr. Price Yanarsdal, of Harrodsburg. The rites were solemnized by Rev. Bryon, at 4 o'clock, P. M., both bride and groom being members of the Presbyterian church.

Miss Carrie Hatchler is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hatchler, of this place.

The old ancestral home of her grandfather, Hadley, is her birthplace, where her happy childhood and genteel girlhood have been spent, with the devoted love of her parents and aunt and many friends.

Among the many charming girls, for which Columbia has ever been justly proud, we have never had one more lovely in person and manner than Miss Carrie.

Mr. Yanarsdal is also an only child of devoted parents, who are among the old and elegant families of Harrodsburg.

This romantic wedding is the culmination of children's love affair that has been kept up with occasional interruptions since that time.

Only a few special friends and near relations witnessed the ceremony, after which the happy pair left town for Harrodsburg to be present at a magnificent reception given them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Yanarsdal, this evening.

The bride's trousseau was beautiful and they have received many handsome presents. Every body tendered hearty congratulations.

A FRIEND.

We desire to offer a few additional lines, expressing our best wishes, and will be ready to extend the hand of friendship to the happy couple when they reach Columbia. Miss Hatchler is an accomplished young lady, steps and plays beautifully and her many friends throughout this community are glad that she is happily wedded to the gentleman of her choice, a man of honor and high standing at his home. Mr. Yanarsdal represents the New England Life Insurance Company and is a very successful business man. To this point no invitations were extended to relatives and a few friends who are being present. The parlor was artistically decorated and the ceremony beautiful and impressive. Immediately after the rites had been solemnized the couple left for Harrodsburg, the home of the groom's parents, where magnificent reception awaited them, where they will remain a few weeks, reaching Columbia about the first of March. The bride is a granddaughter of the late F. P. Harrodsburg, who was a prominent lawyer of this place, and a niece of Hon. P. W. and Ben Lee Harrodsburg of Harrodsburg. Upon their return to Columbia they will be warmly received by the parents of the bride and the many friends of both the contracting parties.

S. D. JOHNSON DEAD.

The subject of this writing was a native of Adair county and many years of his life were spent in Columbia, his home being where Mr. W. H. Wilson now resides. He was a prominent lawyer and a member of the bar, and a member of the law of the rebellion he was in good command. He removed to Louisville about forty-five years ago and while young and vigorous was an active business man of that city. His health gave way several years ago, but he kept up a short time. He died of heart failure which occurred Sunday, February 1, 1903, at his late residence 755 Seventh street. The deceased leaves a wife 51 years old and several nieces and nephews. He had no children. Mr. Johnson was 85 years of age and his remains were interred at Cave Hill cemetery. There are quite a number of relatives of the deceased who reside in Adair county.

At a meeting of Messrs. Strull & Kweit, held last week, it was decided that they would no longer continue their store at this place. The stock was packed and shipped to Greenburg. Mr. Kweit was the manager of the store, the firm handling clothing principally, and the amount of goods sold, in the opinion of Mr. Strull, did not justify the continuing of the store longer.

Mr. Geo. East, whose home was on Disappointment creek, two and a half miles from Columbia, died last Saturday evening at 9:30, of consumption. He had been in bad health for more than a year and was confined to his room for the last two months. Mr. East was about 36 years old and leaves a wife and five children. He was not a member of any church, although he was a sincere Christian, and was reconciled to his Savior, ready and willing for the summons to come. We have known him for several years and know that he was honest and upright in all his dealings. A good, quiet citizen, a true and devoted husband and father has passed to his reward. Services were held Sunday afternoon at his home and the body was laid to rest in the Smith's old burying ground. The family truly deserves the sympathy of all that neighborhood in this sad affliction.

Twenty years ago Rev. W. E. Alexander, a circuit rider in the Columbia district at that time, met with an accident which many of the older people will probably recall. He in company with Gov. J. R. Hindman had been to Cave Valley and on their return the horse ran off upsetting the buggy. Mr. Alexander lost one of his ankles and sustained a bone break. He was taken into Mr. Wm. Butler's house where he was well cared for until he was able to be brought to town. Soon after he left for another field of work and Mr. Butler failed to hear from him until a few days ago when he received a letter mentioning the accident and expressing his appreciation of the kindness shown him many years ago, and also a box of 300 Florida oranges. Mr. Butler highly appreciated the letter and the fruit and both came as a surprise. Gratitude is a great quality.

The cultivation of ginseng has become quite an industry in and about Cave Valley. There are quite a number of gentlemen who devote their time to this plant. This industry has been going on for several years, and those who are interested have realized good money for their time and labor. Last year W. H. Jones sold several hundred dollars worth of ginseng and he expects to sell several hundred dollars worth this year. Banks now have two thousand dollars worth of seed and roots on hand, and Mr. T. R. Lee has about one hundred acres of ginseng ready for market. Those who are interested can make more money raising ginseng than they can in fattening corn and tobacco. Some time in the future we will have more to say concerning this industry.

Mr. Foster Ingram, of Cave Valley, raised 40 turkeys last year and sold 37 for the sum of $63.10. She is one of the best poultry raisers in that neighborhood. It is a great care to raise turkeys, but if she had the chance of many house-keepers she would convince people how to raise poultry. Mrs. Ingram is a daughter of Mr. Rufus E. Bailey, one of Adair's best stock men who goes in for the blood, and that is Mrs. Ingram's success in raising turkeys. Some nights ago she was awakened by hearing noise among her fowls. She immediately went out and found four turkeys missing. The next morning they were traced and returned to her. One of them was a gobbler weighing 37 pounds.

The citizens of Russell Springs who are making an effort to have the cemetery seat of Russell removed from Jamestown to their place, have enjoined the magistrates of the county from taking further steps toward building a new jail. The contract for the jail has been let and the restraining suit will come up at the next term of circuit court which begins at Jamestown next Monday. In the suit the county will be represented by Mr. J. F. Montgomery and Mr. Lillburn Phelps and the plaintiff by Messrs. Rollin and F. R. Winfrey. Much interest has been manifested in Russell and people throughout the county will attend the hearing of the action.

Mr. J. Lapsley Wilson, druggist at Greenburg, missed twenty-five dollars from his safe one day last week. The next morning his clerk was agreeably surprised in finding the money on the floor as he opened the store. Consequently he returned it to the thief. It was the first time.

DEAD AT 91 YEARS.

Died, February 1, 1903, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. C. C. Leonard, Pk. Worth, Texas, Jesse Murrell in the 91st year of his age. Mr. Murrell was born in Adair county, Ky., on July 24th, 1812, and lived many years in his native State. He was married to Miss Clarissa Medaris Decker in 1833, and in the year 1837 moved to the Methodist church in which faith he lived 65 years. To them were born twelve children, and eight of these were with him at the close of his life. About eighteen years ago he removed to Ft. Worth and was engaged in the hotel business 'till old age required him to retire from business since which time his home has been with his youngest daughter, Mrs. Leonard. Mr. Hiram Murrell, of Dallas, Mr. Luther Murrell, Miss Mary and Ellen Murrell, Mrs. Sordland, Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Leonard, of Ft. Worth, and many grandchildren mourn their loss. Indeed their devotion to him and care of him was beautiful to see and was the joy of his life.

Funeral services were conducted by Dr. S. H. Winters, pastor of the Methodist church of this place, and the remains were carried to Cleburne, Tex., for interment by the side of his son, Henry.

"But the path of the just is as the shining light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

Ft. Worth, Tex. A FRIEND.

The hauling between this place and Campbellville has been done with great difficulty for the past three weeks. The pike is all cut up, requiring the wagon to be pulled over the teams, and in that way it is hard pulling to get over the road. The wagons are kicking against the pole and want the gates thrown open. The patient, the President of the pike has control over the elements. As soon as the weather fair the road will be put in good condition.

Mr. Luther Bolls, of Miami, Mo., was the News that he is located in a fine fertile country and in the center of the best market in the United States. Corn, wheat, oats, rye and alfalfa grow in great abundance. Last year's crop of corn measured out from seventy-five to one hundred bushels per acre. He is well pleased with the results of his investment. The news from that section says he cannot purchase property there.

Mr. John W. Coy tendered his resignation as Town Marshal and Capt. Geo. Flowers has been appointed in his place. The new marshal will enforce the ordinances. There is but little glory in the position and the man who fills it should do it fearlessly and impartially and for the pay he expects to get out of it. It is predicted that Capt. Flowers will make a diligent officer.

Cloyd, Tandy & Co. bought 78 hogs from S. F. Foster, Creelsboro, last week at 5 cents; 90 head in Adair county, from different parties, at 4 and 5 cents; one mule from H. A. Walker for $120 sold to Henry Miller, of Marion county, 4 mules for $420 and one horse for $115. They also sold to J. K. Robertson, this county, one mule for $120.

Mr. Sam F. White, of this place, lately concluded with the Columbia Spectator, has accepted a position in the printing department of the School of Reform, Louisville. He entered up on the discharge of his duties last week. This discharge of duty will be Mr. White's duty to instruct young boys in the art of printing.

Circuit Court will commence at Jamestown next Monday. Representatives of this paper will be in attendance, and all parties who desire to transact business with them will be given an opportunity. The News goes to all the post offices in Russell county and we would be glad to add many new names to our subscription book.

FOUR SALE.—Mr. W. H. Jones, this place, has six building lots for sale. The price is $100 each. The lots are situated at the corner of the Main and Memorial Streets. Address: Sam F. White, Columbia, Ky. 1st.

We notice in the last issue of the News an article from Ozark on hog law and cholera. We want the writer to know that we are not opposed to the hog law or the general stock law, but if farmers would feed their hogs some corn while running on range they wouldn't be so apt to have cholera. He states that in countries where hog law prevails cholera is unknown and hogs are plentiful. We will say that the writer was either never in those country's or has been mistaken for those who have been in those stock law sections where hogs died in pens by the dozens.

OBITUARY.

On the 29th of October, 1901, at 2 o'clock in the morning, the death angel visited my home and claimed for its victim Mary Ann Shepherd, my devoted wife. She is a daughter of William and Promelia Moore, of Russell county, Ky., and was born March 12, 1832, and was married to the writer August 25, 1851, and to the union were born four child, two of whom preceded her to the grave. She was paralyzed November 24, 1894, being confined to her room most of the time, becoming worse gradually before her demise and remained very low until the end came. All was done that medical aid and loving hands could do, but the complication of disease was too deeply seated for her recovery.

A sympathetic crowd witnessed the funeral services conducted by Rev. Mason T. Grime. She leaves a vacant seat that cannot be filled and she will be greatly missed.

She cannot come back to us but let us live as to meet her in the bright beyond where sorrowing and parting is no more. Her husband and best friend,

W. S. SHEPHERD.
